FOREWORD

I dreamt of a man who should be dignitously strong, unashamed, fearless and bold, good with his strength dignified, able and tactfully and filled with a religion that was built not of locks or creeds or ceremonies and observances, but of desire to help those that had need of help, not in the realm beyond of another world but the seeming of here — now — today.

Editorial

Dedicated to the Spirit of the American Indian, we present the 1951 MASSASOIT. His is the spirit symbolic of manhood to which we, the men of Springfield, will devote our lives. The American Indian in his free enjoyment of life and religion was brave, clean, kind, and reverent. His life was unsordid, untainted by avarice, dignified, courteous, truthful, and honest. He possessed a soul of honor and was gifted with a physique representing the highest bodily development. We make our dedication to him by passing to you, the men of Springfield, the creed which his spirit holds forth to all men. In the words of Tecumseh, mighty warrior and wise man, "The chief end of man is the attainment of manhood, which is the just development of every part and power that go to make a man, and the fullest reasonable enjoyment of the same. He must achieve manhood in the Body Way, the Knowledge Way, the Spirit Way and the Tribal Way. Having attained to high manhood, he must consecrate that manhood to the service of all people, and so live this life that the fear of death can never enter his heart." It is our privilege as men of Springfield to carry the message held forth by the Spirit of the American Indian. This we can do by carrying forth into the world the spirit which we at Springfield possess. Ours is representative of his spirit, the true spirit of manhood. Carry his message proudly that our dedication to him may ring louder and clearer than these written words can ever hope to do.

In Memoriam

ROBERT J. CONKLIN was one of those rare spirits whose presence so radiated vitality as to make it exceedingly difficult for their friends to accept the hard fact of their passing.

Often on Sunday morning I still have the illusion that in a moment my doorbell will ring and I shall see Bob standing there dressed for a day in the woods, eager and impatient "to get going".

Bob's optimism, his belief in people and in the future, his faith that somehow the immediately Unknown and Unfathomed would inevitably become clear and charted, were perhaps in the end his undoing, but for many years this attitude gave the needed stimulus to many a lagging committee and many a discouraged student.

Many times recently I have found myself wondering whether Bob's approach to life is not the right one. No matter how dark and uncertain the future, you must bet your life on the goodness of persons and the long-run favorableness of man's total environment to man's existence.

True, the more prudential and calculating can point out that things don't work out that way, but I like to think of Bob shouting back from 'way ahead on the trail to Pennock and me and the rest of you through the winds of eternity: "I bet everything on the goodness of life; come on along and see!"

Bob fought the good fight sustained by this philosophy. It helped him to overcome great obstacles in getting an education, in fighting through World War I as an infantry man, going on and getting his doctorate in English at Columbia, in advancing his profession and finally, as ever, pressing forward to new adventures.

We hail Bob!

ROBERT JOSIAH CONKLIN

"It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude."

CLASS OF 1951

The members of the class of 1951, who are about to commence their professional life, look back four years to the autumn of 1947. They remember the occasion when this group assumed formation on the college campus. This was the beginning of a series of activities and functions leading auspiciously to the great day of graduation.

The senior class manifested its capacities during these college years in athletics, fall and winter homecoming dances, Stardust Ball and campus organizations, as well as the class room; cooperation and friendliness were the keynotes of our accomplishments. We hope we have not only enriched our college, but in turn acquired the social, spiritual, and physical qualities which aid us in our life work. Our thanks to the faculty and administration for their diligence and guidance will be expressed in our attempt to help others toward realizing a richer and more satisfying life.

Owing to the troubled state of the present world, we will no doubt find it necessary to use to our fullest extent the philosophies given us through our associations and activities here at Springfield.

CLASS OF 1952

The enthusiastic spirit always shown by the men of '52 was displayed to good advantage during this eventful year. The 1951 Massasoit was a definite reality in our Sophomore year, when Co-Editors Eldaige St. Peter and Donald Youngman trained their sights on giving the school a traditional best seller. Not to be outdone was Calendar Committee head, George Silcott who presented a new and unique record of events and dates, utilizing our "Design for Tomorrow" theme.

Individually and co-operatively, the Junior Class made many contributions to varsity sports and has maintained competition on a high level. The Student Council has a good share of representation from the men of '52, and the Gift Committee guided by Chairman Al Melleby is making possible a momento of our stay here at Springfield.

Social activities were highlighted by the Junior Prom which gave entertainment and enjoyment to a large week-end gathering. Plans for the Prom were capably guided by Co-Chairmen Bob Becker and Bill Bussiere.

Since the beginning of this year, many of the members of our class have left to answer our country's need for men in the armed forces. Our hopes are with them for a safe and speedy return to Springfield.

JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEE

The biggest social week-end of the year began on May 4th. The Junior Prom opened the festivities Friday nite with the memorable dance being centered about a Fairyland theme.

Responsibility for this elaborate affair was in the hands of a committee of one-hundred and five members, making up nine sub-committees. Building materials being scarce and prices high, the committee substituted with imagination and creativity. Loud shirts and levis replaced top hats and tails Saturday nite when all attended a gala square dance. Varsity competition in baseball, lacrosse and track completed a program that will be remembered by all.

CALENDAR COMMITTEE

Interested in presenting to the student body a new and more practical calendar the committee decided to publish one of the desk type. The calendar, which pictures Springfield College life follows the theme of the recent college movie, "Design for Tomorrow". Photography, simplicity, and practicality are the outstanding features of this Junior Class publication. The committee received an early start last spring when they investigated the possibility of publishing this new and different type of class project. The efforts of this group have been well rewarded by the pleasing response of the student body.

CLASS OF 1953

September, 1949, marked the entrance of the men of '53 through the gates of Springfield College. Little could then be told of our potentialities, but our Freshman year proved a highly successful one. While at Freshman Camp, we elected our officers and chose Miss Sliepcovich as our advisor.

Successes achieved our first year were soon matched in our second. Members of our class made important contributions to every varsity sport, many being the mainstays of the teams on which they played. The successful Winter Homecoming Dance was a tribute to the ability and spirit of the entire class, especially to Bob Segein, its chairman.

Uncertainty about the service situation has been a major factor in our college life. Many have left our ranks already, and others are scheduled to go at the end of the academic year. Just how great this exodus will be is an unknown quantity. The only certainty now existing is that no matter how many leave, the Spirit of '53 will always be a part of Springfield College.

CLASS OF 1954

On a morning of late September 1950, Carlisle Foyer once again welcomed a group of enthusiastic young men to Springfield College's halls of learning. This year's Freshman Class was the youngest to enter Springfield since the war. The average age was slightly over eighteen, which is almost equal to the pre-war normal. Although twenty loyal heavyweights of the yearling class were defeated by the Sophomores in the annual rope pull, the class spirit was by no means damped.

During the week prior to the AIC-Springfield gridiron clash, the men of '54 guarded the football field from would-be-ill doers. The most notable achievement of the class executive committee was the staging of the Frosh Frolic which proved to be a highly successful dance. A something to do on Sunday afternoon was provided for all students by the Frosh with the presentation of top grade movies each week.

With the uncertainties of military call ever present, the class of '54 is determined to make the most of its opportunities for higher learning. We want our stay here to be memorable and of value to both Springfield and ourselves.

GRADUATE CLASS

The Graduate Class was composed of one hundred and seventy four full time students, making it the largest graduate class in the history of the school. Forty-eight different colleges were represented among the graduates. This group came from Twenty-five states and eleven foreign countries, including China, Egypt, India, Indonesia, Israel, New Zealand, The Philippines, Great Britain and Hungary.

Many of the class members spent numerous hours assisting in different departments of the college and in other neighboring schools. These activities served to increase the development of the individual as well as to render service to members of the community.

In spite of the long hours of study and the outside work, the members of the class found time to win a large percentage of intramural activities, both team and individual sports.

The social activities of the class were rather limited. During the fall, a very enjoyable tea was given for the class by the faculty wives. The winter term found the class enjoying record dances in Carlisle Foyer. Activity and enjoyment keyed the annual outing during the spring term.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

STUDENT UNION COMMITTEE

The Student Council is responsible for the general management of the Student Union. This is accomplished through the Student Union Committee in conjunction with the Director of Student Activities. The committee membership consists of students who have signified their interest in the work of the union.

The Student Union Committee carries on the everyday operation of the Union, and makes recommendations to the Student Council regarding policy changes of the Union and Snack Bar and major expenditure needs toward the betterment of "our Student Union".

A cordial invitation is extended to all students interested in serving on this important committee of the student Government.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Elected each Spring to serve the following year, the Student Council functions as a representative body for the students in formulating policies concerning pressing campus problems of general student welfare. It might be well called the "Voice of the Students".

Composed of two representatives from the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Classes and three from the Senior Class along with one Graduate Student and two from the Social Activities Board — the other "wing" of student government, the Council meets once a week during the college year to perform this important function. Council representatives also serve as sub-committee chairmen, recruiting interested committee members from the student body.

All Springfield students are invited and urged to become strong, active members of the student government on campus. Participation in this democratic campus organization provides excellent training and experience for future citizens in youth work.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

The Inter-Club Council has been formed to coordinate the various campus social activities. The need for such a body was felt last Spring; and the result was a committee composed of one representative from every campus club and organization. After the ratification of the constitution by its members and Student Council, it was established as the programming body for student activities by President Limbert.

The membership of the Inter-Club Council shall consist of one representative from each class and organization that is officially recognized by the Social Activities Board.

Although the organization is comparatively young, the results of its coordinating effects have already been seen. The main purpose is the coordinating, scheduling, and publicizing of all-campus social events. With Springfield College becoming co-educational next year, this organization will be of primary importance to the unification of campus social life.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES BOARD

Big Business

The Social Activities Board is composed of elected faculty and student members whose main function is to accept or reject club charters, budgets, the scheduling of social events, and like functions.

Being a representative group of students, faculty, and administration, a thorough sampling of opinion is to be found in the Social Activities Board. Each class is represented, with the Seniors holding three seats and the Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen having two each.

In past years a faculty representative served in the capacity as president. This year the board resolved to elect a student representative. In the future, as now, the college will continue to receive services provided by the Social Activities Board, and students will continue to benefit from its many and varied services.

CO-ED COMMITTEE

Anticipating the future enrollment of women students, the twenty-one girls enrolled at Springfield College this year organized a group to help determine the solutions to problems which may arise because of the change in college enrollment. At their first meeting, Miss Sliepcovich was elected faculty advisor; Arax Charkoudian, Chairman, and Charlotte Fry, recorder.

The girls have acted as hostesses to prospective co-eds on their visits to the campus. The group has looked further into the future than just next year. Mr. Martin, Alumni Secretary, met with the co-eds and discussed the situation of women in the Alumni Association. Plans were made that the women would join the prevailing chapters instead of forming new ones.

A room in the Student Union was made into a cozy corner on campus for informal get-togethers; also business meetings were held weekly at the homes of those who live in the city.

INTRA-MURAL COUNCIL

Under the capable guidance of Intra-Mural Faculty Director Vern Cox, the Intra-Mural Council engaged in one of its busiest and best years. Intra-Murals is an integral part of the sports program at Springfield and it is this group which plans and executes all the Intra-Mural activities. During the fall term the Council sponsored Cross Country, Touch Football, Soccer, Tennis, and Handball; in the winter term Swimming, Badminton, Wrestling, Foul Shooting, Volleyball and independent, dorm, and class leagues in Basketball. The spring saw the Council running activities in Softball, Track, Bridge, Golf and Archery. Never before was such an extensive and efficient Intra-Mural program run at Springfield. Enthusiasm mounted to an all time high under the outstanding work done by the organizers. The Council provided a program which had something in it for all men who were not participating on a college sponsored team.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Gamma Eta is the Springfield College chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, National Service Fraternity, which enlists as its members men who were at one time connected with the scouting movement and who are interested in the fraternity's program of Friendship, Fellowship and Service.

Gamma Eta has served the school through such projects as publication of the student directory, and Frosh Handbook, the Get-Acquainted Square dance during Freshman Orientation Week, lining out the parking lot, sponsoring the annual Springfield—A.I.C. pep rally and dance, operation of the second hand book exchange and the maintenance of the college bulletin boards.

With the possibility of another national emergency now a certainty, the work of Alpha Phi Omega will continue to grow in importance here on the campus and will be sure to prove an invaluable source of experience for its members in the future.

AQUATIC CLUB

Numbered among the primary purposes of the Springfield College Aquatic Club are the advancement of aquatics and the promotion of the Aquatic, Social, and Cultural life of the club members. These objectives are carried out by a group of special committees.

The first club-sponsored activity was the Free-style Fling held on Dad's Day. During each term special speakers volunteer their services to the club; these men are specialists in aquatics or fields closely related to aquatics, and contribute a great deal to the knowledge of the members.

Again, this year's highlight of the club's activities was the traditional water carnival which was held in March and featured top-flight swimmers and feature acts.

ASSOCIATION OF SECRETARIES

This school annum marked the fourth year in the history of Springfield College Association of Secretaries. The organization's main purpose is 'to orient the students of Springfield College to the philosophy of the Young Men's Christian Association beyond the bounds of the academic curricula'. In line with this purpose members of the group attended meetings and conventions of both a national and area nature. Varied programs were presented to the members throughout the year featuring outside speakers, a supper meeting with various area, state and national secretaries, discussions, annual banquet and as guests of the Greenfield YMCA men's club.

During the year the A.O.S. News, a local organ of the college association was revived. This publication enables the future secretaries to view the work being done in the field of youth leadership.

BARBELL CLUB

The Springfield College Barbell Club was formed for the purpose of providing for those students who so desire an opportunity to improve their physical condition, athletic ability and general health. The members of the club strive to achieve these goals through the medium of progressive weight training. There are about two dozen enthusiastic members who faithfully perform their presses, squats and curls in their training room in the Field House Annex. The club has developed many outstanding physiques and several very capable competitive weight lifters. Interest in weight training on the campus is rising and the Barbell club is becoming more popular every year.

Learning By Leading

This year the Campus Clubs have taken on new proportions and characteristics. This project, which is sponsored by the Group Work and Community Organization department, has a two fold purpose: First, it attempts to serve the young boys in the community surrounding the college through recreational, educational and social activities. Secondly, it serves as a training ground for college students in their study of youth leadership and supervision. The project this year had a membership of 157 boys plus a parent sponsoring group of 30. Within the organization there were fourteen student leaders, four club supervisors and one project supervisor. Outstanding club programs this year included learn to swim campaigns, club picnics, development of a craft program, a Christmas party, gym games and a jamboree.

CHEERLEADERS

A home game or meet would not be complete without our corps of cheerleaders. This aggregation works hard to make the College teams feel that there are loyal, cheering students backing them all the way. With that "go get 'em spirit", the squad has brought about a great improvement in the student's cheering. The squad, headed by Warren Weber, has supported the backing needed at the home games for the various teams and their determination for better and spirited cheering has been of great help to our teams. Through this enthusiastic group, our athletic forces are assured of complete backing in their quest for victory.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Rendering an opportunity for our foreign students to seek the ideas and to understand the feelings of our fellow American students, the Cosmopolitan Club offers a great many ways in which these students may become acquainted with the American way of life. The club has become a very popular one among the students from other lands because it provides opportunities for them to exchange ideas and to relate stories of their homelands.

The Cosmopolitan Club includes about an equal number of American and foreign students, who enjoy a highly democratic program of activities. The wishes of all its members find expression in a varied plan of dances, meetings, parties and recreational events. This display of good fellowship goes far towards building a better and more united world.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Under the able direction of William "Chief" Simpson, the Springfield College Dramatic Club entered a new year of work with unbounded eagerness and enthusiasm. During the year, the club offered a series of plays that included; "The Hasty Heart", "You Can't Take It With You" and "Winter-set". Each play presented was a smash hit and their success added to the prestige of the club.

The Dramatic Club is one with fine ideals, in that its purpose is to give to all interested students and student wives an opportunity to express their desires relating to the legitimate stage through acting, working as stage hands, make-up or any of the many jobs associated with a first rate production.

FRESHMAN WEEK COMMITTEE

The Freshman Week Committee is fast becoming a campus tradition. The committee is responsible for helping the incoming freshman to become oriented to college life during their first week on campus.

The program of the week attempts to give the incoming students an opportunity to become acquainted with traditions, faculty, campus life, and the community of our college. The activities include testing, registration, Sports Night, Club Night, faculty visitations, Eastern States Exposition, a supper and sing at the college camp, and the President's reception.

GOLF CLUB

Still in the infant stage, the Golf Club enjoyed its first full time schedule last spring when they competed with various colleges in New England, finishing the season with a commendable 5-7 record. Home contests were held at the Springfield Country Club where they were cordially welcomed by the full time members. Mid-way through the season, the club participated in the New England championships held at Watertown, Mass. As a team, the club took sixth place in a field of fifteen teams. Individual honors went to Jack Girvin who qualified with a 74, but was beaten in the quarter-finals in an extra hole match.

The highlight of the year from a team stand-point was a convincing triumph over Babson Institute, which was rated as a power in New England college golf circles. The team has hopes of establishing itself as one of the better teams in college golf this coming season.

HANDBALL CLUB

The Springfield College Handball Club was initiated last year following a successful match between several students from Springfield and the cadets at West Point. The enthusiasm aroused by the winning of this match prompted Al Triner, George Maier, Jim Mahan and Bill Cheney to establish another sports club on campus. It was felt by these men that the game of handball could serve to promote relationships with other schools as well as to provide an opportunity for students to become interested in the game itself.

The club has had a busy year establishing itself in the New England handball circles by playing informal matches with many colleges and YMCAs. These matches have served to develop sociability and also as a means of creating high ideals of sportsmanship.

HOCKEY CLUB

Strategy!

In the realm of sports, the club's primary purpose is to bring to the students of Springfield College the fast and exciting game of hockey, which is presented to the campus on an independent and unofficial basis. This year a group of some thirty ambitious skaters have shown true spirit and hockey "know how" in the many exciting games that were played. Up to the present these men have helped bolster and pioneer pre-war hockey at the college, in the hopes that it will one day be recognized on a varsity level.

The schedule this year saw the pucksters facing many strong college teams in the New England area such as Holy Cross, Brown, Amherst, A. I. C., Suffolk University, St. Ansems and the University of Massachusetts. All the regular intercollegiate games were played under N.C.A.A. competition rules. All home contests were featured at the West Springfield Coliseum.

The board of strategy and management this year was capably handled by Coach Russ Peterson, a graduate of Springfield College now attached with the elementary school department in the Springfield school system. Herb Law, president of the club and a hard worker for the team, also did a commendable job.

HOSAGA INDIANS

The appearance of the men of Hosaga in full Indian costume before many groups throughout New England is only one of the ways in which they seek to carry out their aims and objectives of creating a better understanding of the American people. The carryover value of the knowledge gained through relationship with this group is used in summer camps and at the present time by many of the alumni of the group in the recreation field.

Besides presenting recitals the members of the club do extensive research concerning the American Indian. This thorough research into and presentation of the dances, songs, stories, and games of the American Indian is the way in which the Hosaga Indian Club hopes to establish a better understanding of the first inhabitants of this continent.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

During the past academic year the International Relations Club undertook jointly with our neighboring college the task of preparing for a celebration in honor of the United Nations. On October 24th, over 300 students of the college and local high schools, business men and members of the different clubs and organizations attended the celebration. The flag of the United Nations was given to the college as a symbol of the students' wholehearted support of the United Nations.

There was also more active support from the members and the membership gained considerably over past years. All in all the International Relations Club was one of the most active clubs and one which was highly desirable to belong to in view of the current tense situation of the world.

MAROON KEY SOCIETY

Since its inception as an active campus organization in 1930, the Maroon Key Society has made service a foremost objective; visiting teams and various visiting groups have been made to "feel at home" with every effort to render their visits as friendly as possible and to make a return visit a thing looked forward to. Through this service, the good will of Springfield College and her students has been transmitted near and far.

Sophmores, Juniors, and Seniors may become members. Twenty-one hours of personal service must be achieved to become a member, with ten hours necessary each succeeding year to remain an active member.

Letters of appreciation for the courtesies shown have come from many different schools and organizations rendered service by the Maroon Key Society. The men of the Maroon Key have rendered both the school and themselves a valuable service in using this opportunity to further train themselves to work for the good of the other fellow.

OUTING CLUB

Down The Trail

The Springfield College Outing Club has for many years been one of the most active groups on campus. The purpose of this organization is to promote fellowship, enjoyment and interests in social activities, to aid in the training of men in leadership in outdoor life and to gain new friends of common interests in this field or recreation.

Listed among the accomplishments of the club were square dances, hayrides, ski-weekends, camping and canoeing trips, mountain climbing and various other expeditions of nature. Several of the affairs were joint projects of this club and those of neighboring colleges which went far in enhancing friendship among the participants.

With the expected addition of women to our student body next year, the outing club is already formulating plans so that they too will be able to enjoy its offerings and provide a meeting ground for all.

BAND

Solid Boosters!

Under the capable guidance of Mr. Gilbert Vickers, the College Band completed another successful season. The band has sparked many activities throughout its short existence, playing at athletic contests and other various gatherings, as well as offering an interesting and beneficial experience to those with an inclination toward the musical arts.

Music, both instrumental and vocal, is becoming an important phase of campus life, with hope of a possible opportunity for interested students to take credit courses toward a music education degree. Any participation in the informal activities offers a good basis for such a course of study.

GLEE CLUB

Music Makers

The College Glee Club is an organization of men who meet for the enjoyment and educational value received from a singing experience. The purpose of the club is four fold: to create and maintain a democratic and pleasurable type of activity, to promote the musical enjoyment and interest of the club members, students and patrons of the college, to promote, through music, the interests of the college on other college campuses and the surrounding area, and to offer to the students and faculty a recreational and educational experience. Under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Vickers, the club has given several concerts in and around the community as well as enriching the college weekend programs and special events.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club has been a rapid growing organization within the college, having its start during the post war period as a result of student interest. The club has grown until it now has twenty-eight members from the student body and several members from the faculty.

Each member is actively engaged in a program consisting of instructions in darkroom procedures, the art of taking pictures, competition in various photo contests on a national level and photo exhibitions. One of the major undertakings of the club during the past year was the conduction of several monthly clinics in photo taking and processing which were open to the entire student body and faculty.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION MAJORS ASSOCIATION

Progress Through Theory

The Physical Education Majors Association functioned during the year with its main emphasis in helping students majoring in Physical Education to understand and solve problems which they may encounter in their future fields of work. The group, now in its fourth year of activity, initiated many new ideas and programs. Chiefly the meetings provide an opportunity for the members to learn more concerning the various phases of the administration and organization of physical education. At these meetings the members accumulated valuable information pertinent to their chosen field.

One of the more interesting meetings featured several graduates from last year's graduating class. These speakers spoke of some of the problems which they encountered and some of the possible solutions to these problems. Gatherings of this sort proved to be very interesting to the members and provided them with insights into possible problems which may confront them in the future. Although the meetings were few in number, the outlook for next year indicates an active program for the club and its members.

RECREATION SOCIETY

The Springfield College Recreation Society has completed its third year of operation on campus. Despite its youth as a campus group, the Society has made appreciable strides towards accomplishing its aim of "promoting the spirit of recreation in the college community."

Primarily open to members of the Recreation and Camping major and planning its program in terms of the interests of the men who have chosen these fields as their professional goals, the Society has endeavored to fulfill its goal by supporting and sponsoring activities of a recreational nature on campus and in the community. Among its projects have been the weekly CIRCLE and SQUARE dances, three all-college barn dances and participation in other campus functions. In order to discover, explore and share ideas in the fields of recreation and camping, the Society members take active part in conventions of the professional groups, take field trips and participate in related organizations. Speakers and discussion sessions are important parts of this program, while committee work in all areas that the society touches are a "must" for members.

ROUND TABLE CLUB

Occasionally there are times when debatable questions arise and formal discussions are employed in order to arrive at justifiable questions, such is the purpose of the Springfield College Round Table Club. With numerous problems arising daily in our own boundaries as well as in international affairs, the club offers excellent opportunities for intelligent and unbiased thinking expressed through the medium of debate.

Each year the club defends one side of vital controversial questions against some of the best debating teams of the New England area. In order to prepare for the encounters, many hours of study are spent in organizing the material for presentation. Under the tutelage of Mr. Whitaker Deininger the club was capably guided in its quests for victory over the opposing orators. Debates were contested with Smith, Mount Holyoke, Clark, the University of Connecticut and A. I. C. with the highlight of the season being the tournament at the University of Vermont.

Originally founded in 1937, the Science Club passed out of existence in the immediate post war years. Now however in its second year of renewed activity, the club has a large and interested membership of both students and faculty. The primary purpose of the club is to provide an opportunity for the advancement of scientific knowledge on an informal basis. A particular objective is to present programs of scientific interest which are outside of or only partially related to the fields presented in the classroom.

The year's program presented varied and interesting activities, consisting of numerous field trips to industrial and suburban points of interest, talks by men in industry, medicine, and from neighborhood colleges, and investigations of newly discovered processes in relationship to the progress of science. The highlight of the year was the observance of the Connecticut Valley Science Conference held at Connecticut College in which many of our members participated.

Membership in Sigma Delta Psi is attained by meeting established standards in thirteen athletic events in addition to scholarship and personal appearance and demeanor. The standards are within reasonable reach of a strong well trained youth but these tests vary so widely, that for one to pass, he must be an individual of all around development. The establishment of national champions in the society is determined through the testing of all of the fraternity's members. The organization with its high ideals and qualifications has spread to colleges all over the country with the Springfield chapter being established soon after World War One. Today the society boasts eighty seven chapters in accredited colleges and universities of the United States.

The competitive season for the Springfield College Ski Club can be labeled as enthusiastic and highly successful. The club on its daily workouts over the cross country course kept their eyes on the heavens but no snow fell. With daily sitz-mark practice, snow had to fall and we were soon rewarded. Bob Hawley, who acted as coach, won the New England Downhill and Slalom championship and with the contributions of Dusty Hammond, Don Whitman and Pete Bauer, Springfield College received its only New England team championship of the year. The season was topped off by defeating A. I. C. in a dual meet for the Carlisle trophy.

SPRINGFIELD STUDENT

In fulfilling its primary functions of recording college life at Springfield and reporting current campus events and sports news to the student body, The Student published twenty seven issues during the school year. As in the past years the paper continued to grow with the college. The paper's offices were enlarged and redecorated. More six page issues than ever before were published. The Student scooped local newspapers on several occasions including the announcement that Harvard was to be added to the Maroon's football schedule. The campus paper was honored by having a number of its stories reprinted in local as well as in other New England newspapers.

For the first time in its history, the staff numbered more than sixty-five members and the circulation was brought to a new high of twenty-one hundred copies per issue. More than seven hundred copies were mailed each week to alumni, parents and interested friends of the college in this country and abroad.

Where All Are Welcome

The Student Christian Association of Springfield College is part of an international movement to make the Christian gospel relevant for the lives and needs of students on campuses throughout the world. At Springfield its motivation is expressed in a variety of ways. Students and faculty attend regional and national conferences which help them to understand more effectively their own faith and their opportunities here on the campus.

The Association conducts a weekly chapel service on the campus and sponsors small study groups in the homes of faculty members. Its regular meetings attempt to help many students on the campus and through deputations and work projects, it expresses its interest in the community.

Recreation!

Since its conception in the spring of 1946, the Student Wives Club has grown in size and spirit. Its objective is to promote friendliness and social activity among married couples of the college. Wives from all parts of the country have been made to feel at home as an integral part of the college and its social functions, while they are giving moral, and sometimes actual support to husbands whose efforts are directed toward obtaining an education.

The wives hold meetings at regular intervals at which interesting speakers are invited to lecture and club business is also taken up. This business may deal with a bake sale or it may be concerned with an open house tea at which the wives serve as aids and hostesses. A rather unique service provided by the club is the providing of a free nursery for the children of the graduating class during commencement week.

VARSITY "S" CLUB

Throughout the past year the Varsity Club has functioned once again to enhance the prestige of the Springfield College Varsity letter and to sustain the traditions of the college. The club has sponsored many activities which have been of value to both its members and the college as a whole.

In the fall the club sponsored the frosh-soph rope pull which saw the sophmores emerge with a hard earned victory. A dance was held after the Cortland football game for the enjoyment of all students and their dates. This type of activity along with the club's service to the school makes the Varsity "S" club one of the most popular and valuable organizations on campus.

Springfield College and the Volley Ball Club shall act as hosts to five National volley ball championship tournaments this spring. Games to decide the National Open, Y.M.C.A., Women's, Veterans' and National Collegiate champions will be played at our field house. The arrangements and details of the championship games are being handled by the Volley Ball Club and "Doc" Walters who is representing the college. This is the first time that the championship games have been held in the east and the club feels very fortunate that it shall take such an important part in volley ball's most important yearly event.

Membership in the club is open to any that enjoy playing volley ball. Ample opportunities to play are afforded all by fielding two squads which play YMCA teams and put on clinics where people are interested in learning to play volley ball correctly.

In October of 1950 there was heard for the first time on the college campus, the college's own radio station. The station, owned and operated by the students of the college, transmits carrier current on a frequency of 990 kilocycles and can be heard throughout all of the buildings on campus and in the immediate vicinity. The station started out with a body of approximately fifty members, who actively participated in putting on programs over the air, from seven to nine in the morning and in the evening. The evening programs consisted of disk jockey shows, news, special events in sports and social fields, and special shows such as drama, quizzes, and informative programs. The station provides the students with an opportunity to participate actively in the operation of a radio station in the field of management, announcing, engineering and programming.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Rolling up a total of one hundred and sixty two points and holding its opponents to forty one, Coach Ossie Solem's grid machine completed a successful campaign with a record of six wins and two losses. Nate Osur, a giant asset in the defensive wall, and Bob D'Agostino, whose shifty running was a constant threat to the opponents, led the Maroons as co-captains.

Making full use of the two platoon system, the Maroons coordinated a powerful ground attack with sterling defensive play as evidenced by the four shut outs registered on the scoreboard during the season. After handily whipping Cortland State Teachers and Bates by two and four touchdown margins, the Maroons ran into trouble with the University of Connecticut as the Huskies squeezed out a 13-12 victory. Ed Hoffman the star sophomore quarterback, was injured in this game and lost for the season. Another loss followed at the hands of New Hampshire before the Maroon gridders hit the rebound trail with successive victories over St. Michael's, Rhode Island State, University of Massachusetts, and A. I. C. The cross-town rivalry was hotly contested in the season finale with A. I. C. as the Maroons, behind 7-0 at half-time, retaliated with a vicious ground attack in the second half to win 21-7.

The squad had many outstanding players. The offensive line starred such capable performers as Mort Meltzer, Dave Baille, Dave Ritter, Jack Etter, Don Davies, Paul Ryan and Bob Lake. Outstanding in the backfield were Correale, Maier, Insalaco, Buntin, D'Agostino and Kibbe.

Angie Correale, the "Sunderland Ghost", was the team's top scorer with eleven touchdowns for a total of sixty-six points. The quarter-backing responsibilities were shared by Ed Hoffman and Don Teel. The defensive team upheld their traditional record of restricting the opponent's touchdown production. Nate Osur, Roger Woodburn, and Walter Sorg made an iron wall in the center of the line while Joe Lettera, Roland Chinatti and Andy Speed kept the enemy from executing end sweeps. This defensive wall was ably backed up by John Begin, Dixon McCool, Earl Tate and Frank Scelza. John Burke, who averaged forty yards in punting and George Doherty, who contributed a thirty five yard field goal against St. Michael's, combined their kicking talents to set the opponents back when they threatened.

VARSITY SOCCER

Faced with the tremendous task of rebuilding an almost entirely new squad for the 1950 campaign due to the loss of eight starters from the '49 team, Coach Irv Schmid called upon a few remaining veterans and a couple of brilliant performers from the Freshman and Junior Varsity squads to tackle a rugged nine game schedule. Except for two one goal losses to Harvard and Yale, the Booters swept over all comers to record a very successful 7-2 season. In almost every game the soccermen of SC displayed superior ability over their opponents in regards to basic fundamentals and teamwork.

The Schmid-men got off to a good start in their first game by downing a strong Cortland squad 2-1. A close one all the way, Skip Knuttgen finally decided the issue with his game clinching goal from 20 yds. out. Revenge was sweet in this contest because the booters from Cortland had stunned the Maroons in 1949 with a 2-1 upset win.

After winning over Wesleyan in their second game, the Schmidmen tasted defeat at the hands of the Ivy Leaguers from Yale. Clark and Connecticut Universities were the next victims of the SC booters before a spirited Harvard squad nipped them 3-2 to knock the Maroons out of the New England league race. The remainder of the schedule saw SC roll over three straight opponents, Williams, U. of Mass., and R. P. I., to complete the very successful campaign.

Springfield scored thirty goals and succeeded in holding their opponents to fifteen which is evidence of the amount of superiority the Schmidmen generally had over the opponent's rear guards. Individual scoring honors went to Zach Marshall who finished with a total of nine goals, four of them coming against Clark. Barbour, Penndorf and Simos followed with 8, 5 and 4 goals respectively.

Post-season honors fell in a shower to the Schmidmen. Don Spreen and Art Pappus were named to the All-American team through Honorable Mention while both men were named to the first team All-New England. Second team All-New England honors fell to Bill Peters, Zach Marshall and George Penndorf.

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

Faced with a rugged ten meet schedule, Coach Judd's varsity harriers rolled up another successful season with a hard earned six and two record in dual meets. Opening against perennially powerful Rhode Island State, Springfield upheld the well-nigh unbroken record of past years by bowing to the Rams 30-25.

In the following three weeks the Maroons ran up three consecutive victories over Coast Guard Academy, Williams College and the Cardinals from Wesleyan University. The trio of victories was marked by the fact that George Davis and Bill Hillman tied for first in each meet to definitely establish themselves as the team's top scorers.

Journeying to Troy the team became the fourteenth straight victim of the Engineers from Rensselaer in a closely contested battle. On the following weekend the Judd-men stopped the undefeated University of Maine team in an unexpected and spirited upset. After beating Providence by a wide margin on the home course, the dual season was closed with a 23-32 win over the Huskies from Connecticut. In regional competition Springfield fared less happily, finishing third in the Connecticut Valley Championships and sixth in the New Englands.

In the course of the season Bill Hillman and George Davis, the team "twins", ran up an almost unbelievable record. In eight dual meets only five opponents finished ahead of them. This is all the more remarkable when regarded in the light of the fact that the boys were only sophomores. In the all-important depth positions, senior co-captains Bill Fienemann and Ed Stowell supplied a consistent and reliable punch that pulled more than one meet out of the fire.

Perhaps the most pleasant surprise of the season were the performances of Bill Coughlin and Art Farnham, co-captains elect of the 1951 squad. Running their first year of varsity competition, they placed exceptionally well. Veteran Art Teamerson and transfer Bill Hourigan filled out the lettermen list but behind them were the fighting squad men, hard working runners like Sandy Hayman, Chuck Taylor and Lyman Root who were in many ways essential to the season's successes.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

With a twenty-nine game schedule facing them, the Springfield College basketball team began its 1950-51 season early in December. At this writing the Maroons have posted a record of nine wins while losing fourteen.

The charges of Coach John Bunn started the year by handing New Britain Teachers a set-back by a score of 68-55. Dropping the next encounter to the Huskies from the University of Connecticut by a scant margin of two points, the team was victorious in the following game by overcoming an early lead held by the Westover Field quintet to win going away in an Olympic Fund benefit game.

Embarking on a tour of the mid-west during the Christmas vacation, the Bunn-men engaged in several games with some of the outstanding teams of the nation. Playing these strong and talented foes, while only gaining one triumph, the Springfield hoopsters gained much valuable experience on this jaunt.

The outstanding game of the year was the noteworthy victory over the strongly favored court performers of Manhattan College. With Captain John Burke parting the strings with long set shots and Al Schutts hooking them in from the pivot, the Maroons edged out the Kelly-green men to the tune of 55-51. Another highlight of the season was in the Boston University game when Captain Burke passed the one thousand point mark and in doing so set an all-time high for individual scoring at Springfield.

Ably assisting Burke in the scoring department was Schutts, sophomore sensation, who in his first year of varsity competition played excellent ball. Jim Pelcher, Ed Redmond, Jim Hart, Frank Scelza and Larry McClements deserve much praise for their all-around performances, displaying much aggressiveness and smooth passing in the front court. Bob Lake, Bill Countaway and John Donahue are not to be forgotten for their strong rebounding off the defensive backboard. A big setback was the loss of Phil Ness to the Armed Forces.

In looking to the future, the prospects appear bright with a great majority of the squad returning to the fold along with some fine freshmen prospects who will be available for first line duty when Coach Bunn issues his initial call for candidates.

EXHIBITION TEAM

Coach Leslie Judd's 1951 Exhibition Team once more has carried the tradition of fine performances. This year's exhibitions carried the team to fifteen different cities in several different states. An extensive spring trip is still in the planning stage and these plans may yet materialize. Led by the two Co-captains Jim Bosco and Walt Johnson, the team has spread the name of Springfield College to many parts of the country.

Bob Reardon excelled as the Master of Ceremonies while Bob Haggland continued his superb piano playing so necessary for the coordination and timing of the acts.

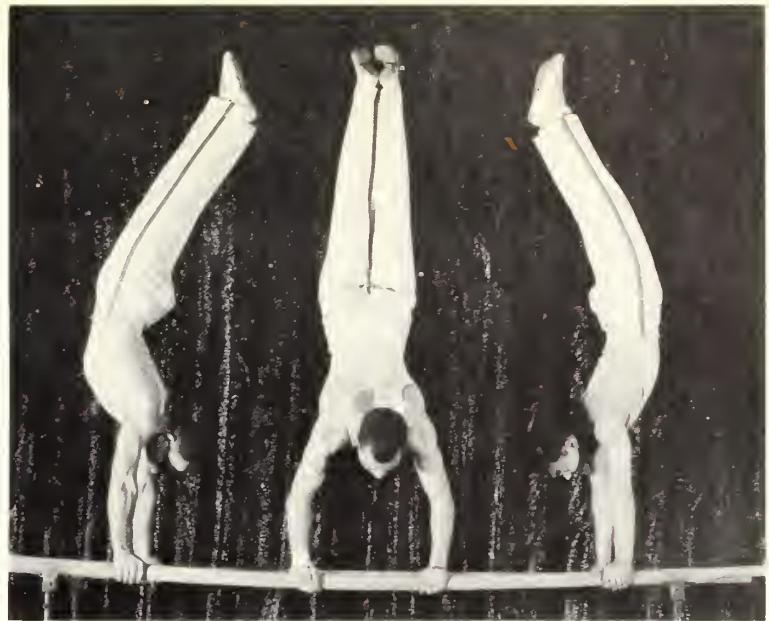

The famous "Triple Balance" act this year was done by Ray Chinn, Jim O'Brien and Ray Brown. Chuck Wise continued to demonstrate his mastery of the tap dance. Hartsoe and Alissi exhibited their knowledge of the fine art of Judo as practiced by the Japanese. A mainstay in the show was the antics of Ray Chinn and Walt Johnson in their clown act which never failed to bring out the audience's best mood.

Tiger leaping, modern dancing and several demonstrations on gymnastic equipment rounded out the show. Under the capable performance of such men as: Donahue, Leonhardt, Johnson, Makay, Walcott, Correnti, Allen, Joseph, Rene and Harris, the team completed a very successful season.

The climax of each exhibition has always been "The Tableaux of Living Statuary", for which the team is world famous, and Coach Judd's team always managed to put on a very inspiring display.

The highlight of the exhibition season was the annual Homecoming performance in the Municipal Auditorium, before an audience of almost three thousand breathless spectators, composed of students, alumni and friends of the college.

The credit that the Exhibition Team brings to Springfield College is due in a great part to the constant hard work of Coach Leslie Judd. Mike Ellis and his staff of managers deserve their bit of praise for the excellent work they have done for the team this season.

VARSITY SWIMMING

The 1951 Maroon and White Mermen under the leadership of Coach Charles Silvia started the season in a pessimistic frame of mind for great was the task to find men who could be called upon for top flight performances to fill the shoes of men lost through graduation. The Mermen though hampered by the loss of key men pitched into the battle with great gusto determined to come up with a squad that would be emblematic of the type of teams that are produced by Springfield College and the able coaching staffs. Co-captains Charles Arnold and Louis Candido led the team in hard work needed to get into the best possible condition for the big job ahead. The Maroons set off the season in great style by winning the initial meet at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute with Tufts College the second victim and the Cardinals of Wesleyan the third in the first home meet of the season. Top performances were made by Arnold as he raced to a new record in the 200 yard backstroke and by Jim Thompson as he came close in the breaststroke event.

McGill was victory number four and Williams swamped the Maroons at the Williamstown school. Meets with Harvard at the McCurdy Natatorium, LaSalle away, and the homecoming affair with the University of Connecticut wound up the dual meets with swimmers preparing for the New England Inter-collegiate Championships held at the Connecticut campus. The Maroons went into the championships confident of finishing in a high place.

The team, noted for its great spirit in victory and defeat, was composed of many veterans and was bolstered by sophomore talent. Arnold and Robbins handled the backstroke and Thompson, Candido and Muir the breaststroke. Freestyle sprinters were Jones, Appleby, Cumler, McNeill, and Sophs Slack, Hetherington, and Preble. Distance men were Coleman, Dotson and Sorg along with Slack and Hetherington. Diving was handled in rotation by Huddleston, Yawger and Farrier.

INDOOR TRACK

Despite a greatly restricted dual meet schedule, Dick Miller, combined varsity and frosh Indoor Track Coach, found a full squad present for the daily Field House practice sessions.

Regional and club meets formed the bulk of the season's program and by mid-season the Springfield tracksters had already made a firm reputation on the Eastern indoor scene.

Under the leadership of two high scoring seniors, Co-Captains Jim Hufsey and Jesse Wade, the team made a creditable showing in every meet.

In the opening tilt at the Boston Y, SC's Ear! Tate scored the top marker with a first in the high jump. The Maroons picked up a second and third in the shot with Phil Walsh and Frank McGrath. The 440 found Jim Hufsey overcoming a big handicap to take second.

In the Boston K. of C. Meet, the mile and two mile relay teams garnered thirds. The two mile quartet of Hillman, Davis, Stowell and Farnham showed great promise.

A change in the mile relay line-up saw Jesse Wade, Joe Cummiskey, Chuck Davis, and Bill Peters sweep to Springfield's third consecutive victory in the B. A. A. Games. The addition of the veteran Cummiskey left Hufsey free to concentrate on his specialty in the dashes, allowing him to make steady improvement through-out the season.

The Maroons battled their way into third place in the New England A. A. U. Championships, amassing a total of 16 points. Mohammed Sheriff, a member of the British Empire team from Ceylon and Jim Hufsey took second and third in the broad jump to contribute the first five points. Diminutive Larry Locke successfully defended his New England Mile Walk Championship to add another five, his walking partner, E. Phillips added another marker with a fourth. The remaining scoring came from an unexpected quarter when the revamped mile relay team swenpt to a memorable victory, shutting out highly favored teams from Providence, B. U., and Brown.

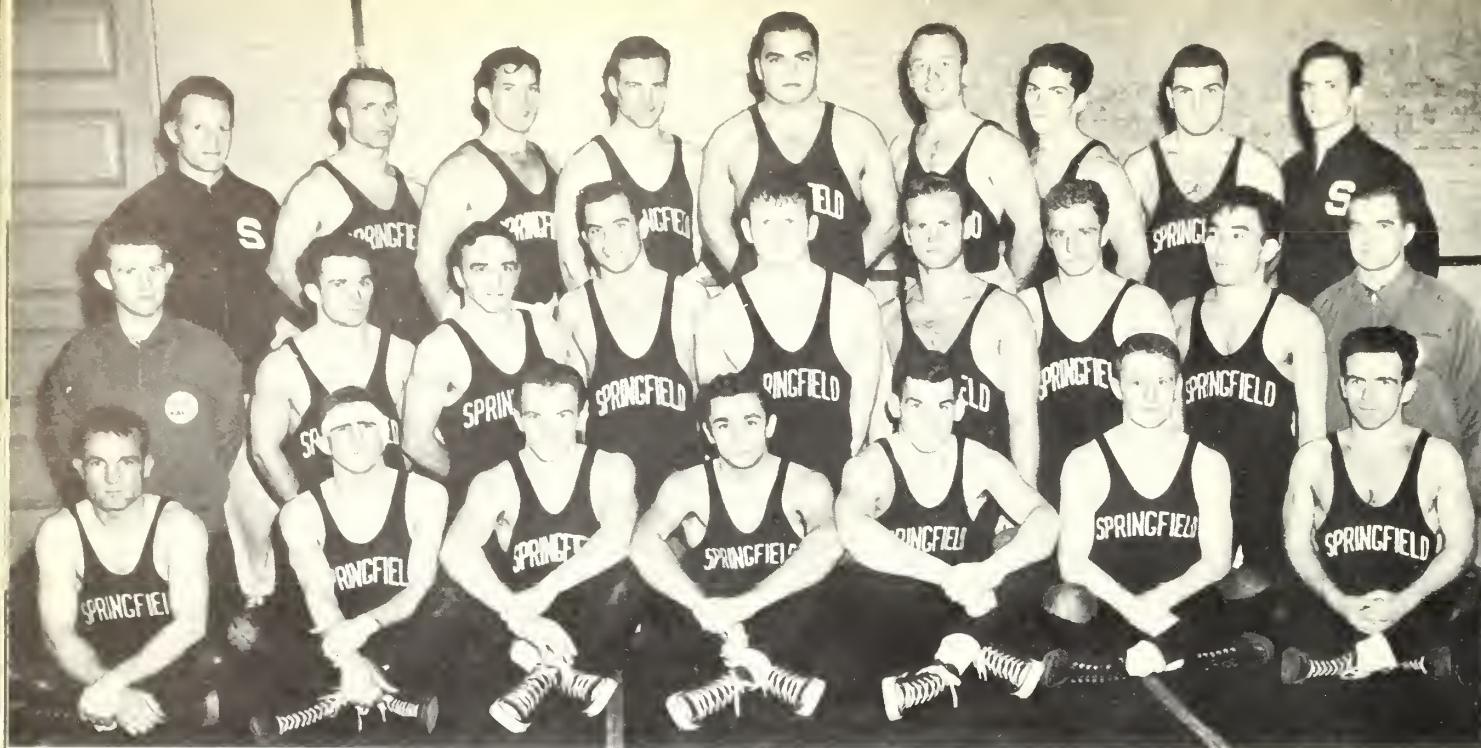

As always the Maine meet loomed as the big obstacle on the schedule and the Maroons nurtured high hopes of avenging last year's close defeat. With versatile veterans composing a large part of the squad, no single individual stood out with the possible exception of the mile relay quartet. Among the seasons high scorers were little Lew Mika and lanky Bill Fienemann.

VARSITY WRESTLING

On December second Coach Ray Sparks and his varsity grapplers embarked upon the task of tackling a rugged eleven meet schedule which included such wrestling power-houses as Yale, Franklin and Marshall, Brown and Williams. The initial encounter of the season was with M. I. T. and the Sparks men got off to a flying start with a well earned 18-16 win. However the Maroon grapplers found it tough sledding in their next three meets with Yale, Franklin and Marshall and Brown, all meets finding Springfield on the lower end of the point total.

Winning ways were finally resumed with a resounding win over Wesleyan by a score of 22-6. Then the big meet of the season, the long awaited tussle with the New England champs from Williams College, saw the Sparks men come from behind to tie the Williams squad 14-14. Behind 14-9 and only the heavy weight match remaining, Dixon McCool, rugged heavyweight competitor for the Maroons, pinned his opponent to gain the five points needed for a tie.

The Maroon grapplers were then caught napping by a revenge-seeking Coast Guard squad and were upset 16-15. Remaining meets on the schedule are those with Boston University, Brooklyn Polytech and Tufts.

Sparked by the outstanding performances of co-captains Bill Donecho and John Cepuran, the Maroon grapplers had seven lettermen from the previous year's squad. The lone sophomore on the squad, Sam Coursen, has been a consistent winner in the 123 lb. class. Bill Donecho, still undefeated in his fourth year of competition and still New England Champion, has dominated the 130 lb. class with his seven straight wins this season.

The 157 pound category was represented by John Cepuran, last year's New England Champion and "Outstanding Wrestler in the New Englands". Bruce Hegedorn has displayed wrestling prowess especially in the latter part of the season in the 167 pound class. The heavyweight entry has Big Dixon McCool. Other hard working grapplers who have contributed greatly to the team's success are Tom Robinson, Doug Parker, Don Gugel, Woody Ball, Dick Doi, Hugh Chandler and Frank Russell.

VARSITY BASEBALL

With a near veteran team intact, the Springfield College varsity baseball team turned in a successful season on the diamond for the 1950 campaign. Although the records show nine wins and seven losses for a .563 average, many of the contests were decided by only one or two runs against the charges of Coach Archie Allen.

Without the benefit of a spring vacation southern trip under their belts, the Allen-tutored diamondeers entered the season with much less practice and experience than some of their more fortunate rivals who had ventured to a warmer climate.

Losing the initial game to a strong Yale team, the Maroon nine came back and triumphed over A. I. C., Amherst and Siena in order before dropping a heart-breaker to Williams, 7-6. Double victories over our traditional rivals, A. I. C., were highlighted by a shut-out performance by left-hander Norm Swenson and a ninth inning uprising to win the second encounter, 6-5. In the middle of the season the Maroons swapped victories with U. of Mass., and R. I. State while beating U. of Conn., R. P. I., and Wesleyan.

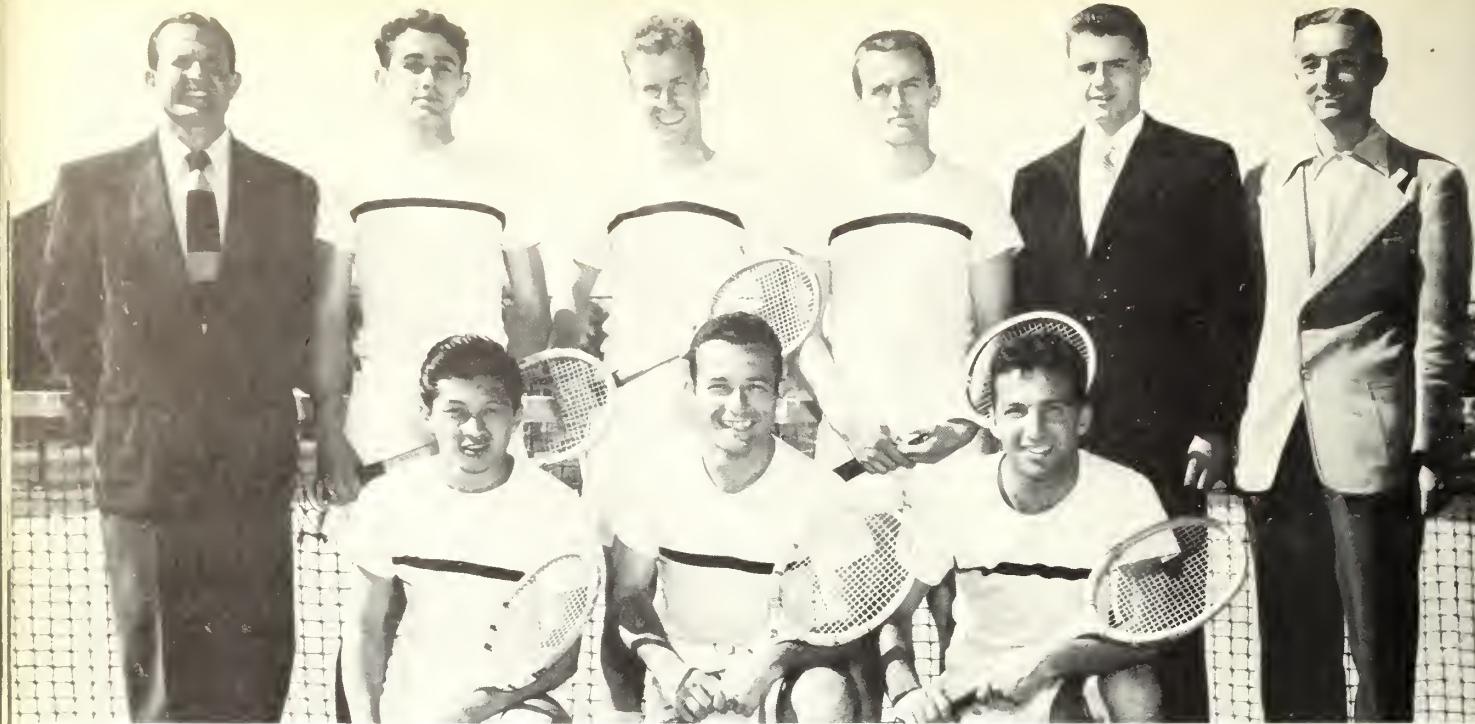

Outfielder Frank Murgo led the hitters' parade, closely followed by dependable Fred Woefle with .359 and .354 batting averages respectively. Speedballer Frank Nevers completed the season with a 5-1 record, being ably supported by Bill Nordberg, Frank Chrapliwy and Swenson. The infield quartet which turned in many sparkling plays afield was composed of converted third baseman Ed Redmond at first, Matt Maetozo and Bob D'Agostino, keystone guardians, and Bob Friberg at third. Patrolling the outer pastures were Captain Bill Friberg, Murgo, Frank Langsner, Tom Simos and Dick Rogalski, making up a formidable array. Also not to be forgotten was the commendable job done by Bob Sewell who filled in for the injured Woefle behind the plate. With many letter-men returning and promising material coming up from the yearling squad plus the possibility of a pre-season southern trip the outlook for the coming 1951 version of the Allen-men seems bright.

VARSITY TENNIS

Despite the fact that the team of '49 graduated entirely, leaving not one single man as a nucleus excepting Captain Don Bosworth, Coach Kidess' netmen were able to hold their own against all competition and compiled a five and five season record. Three scheduled matches were cancelled because of the multitude of rainy days encountered during the season. These cancelled matches might have made a different reading in the won and lost column as the team grew progressively stronger during the season.

Incessant rain marred the practices before the season started and many practice sessions were forced inside and were held in the cage of Memorial Field House. The college courts were in poor condition throughout the spring because of the rain and most of the home matches were played on municipal courts.

The Maroon netmen were led by Ken Shimizu, Captain Don Bosworth and Ted Craver playing the 1, 2, 3 positions respectively. Schlossberg, Geser and Pizarro completed the first six men in the singles department. Schmidt and LaRosa were paired in the doubles matches completing the team's roster.

The racqueteers opened the season with consecutive wins over Clark University and Rhode Island State College by large margins. A match with the U.

of Conn. netsters was rained out and followed by a decisive victory over the Hilltoppers from Trinity; the Maroons then fell as victims before the strong forces of Wesleyan, Williams and Brown. The Kidess-men then hit the victory trail by taking the Crusaders from Holy Cross six to three and the forces from Upsala by an eight to one count. Losses to strong teams from New York University and Renssaeler then followed before rain again marred the schedule and matches with the University of Massachusetts and our cross-town rivals A.I.C., were washed out to close the season.

Don Bosworth compiled the best record in singles play with a won and lost total of 7-3 and was closely followed by Dick Geser with a record of 6-3. Special mention should be made of Walter Ryan, varsity manager, and Dave Ingalls, assistant manager, who both handled the managerial work admirably for the team.

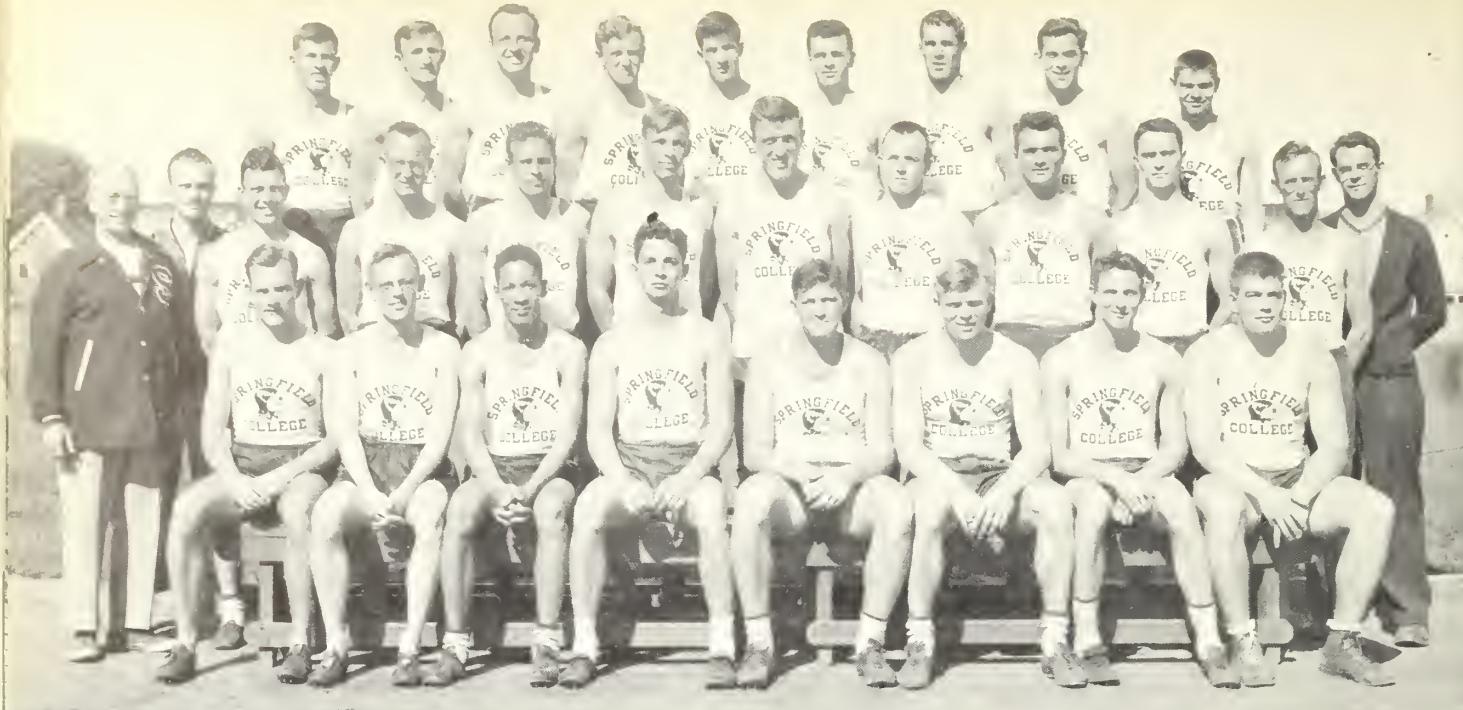

Due to the coaching of Ted Kidess, the Maroon tennis team was up among the top New England squads and through his guidance, developed fine players who are slated to bring greater tennis honors to Springfield College this coming season. The return of Craver, LaRosa and Shimizu will provide a good nucleus around which Coach Kidess can mold another top-notch net team.

VARSITY TRACK

Coach Judd's Maroon cindermen added four more scalps to their victory belt but dropped one meet to their old nemesis, Rhode Island State. The varsity tracksters, led by co-captains Carl Rees and Olin Angell, upheld the old tradition of Springfield track power.

Three records crumbled under the onslaught of the 1950 squad. Carl Rees flipped the 16 lb. hammer 163'6" to break his own record. Leroy Brain soared over 12'4 $\frac{1}{8}$ " in the pole vault event, and Curt Guild spun the disc 137'11" to set new marks in those events.

Springfield's opposition scored 254 points while the Massasoit men racked up 403 markers. Nothing better illustrates the team's balance than a glance at the three top scorers, Rees, a field event man with 44; Davis, a sprinter with 43; and Pupa, a hurdler and high jumper with 43.

In dual meets, the Maroons literally trounced the cinder representatives from Wesleyan, Renssaeler, Providence and the University of Connecticut.

The Juddmen fared less happily in the sectional meets, the only high points being Chuck Davis' victory in the Eastern 220, Rees' second in the Penn Relay hammer and the strong showing of the mile relay team of Hufsey, Davis, Peters and Wade at the same Penn Relays. Top performances were also turned in by Ray Helsing, Olin Angell, Otis Finley and Don Sandstrom.

Springfield College again was the host college for the Eastern Intercollegiate Track Meet which saw Boston University take the title by a scant margin with Tufts close behind and Springfield taking a sixth. At the New Englands held at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, the Juddmen took a fourteenth with few of the men placing.

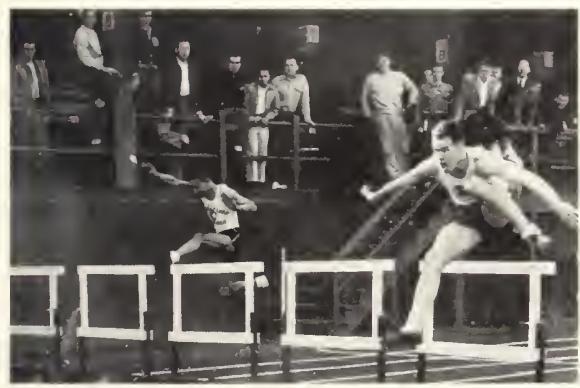

Managerial affairs were capably handled by Bruce Chase and Art Echenrode who through their daily services contributed greatly to the success of the team.

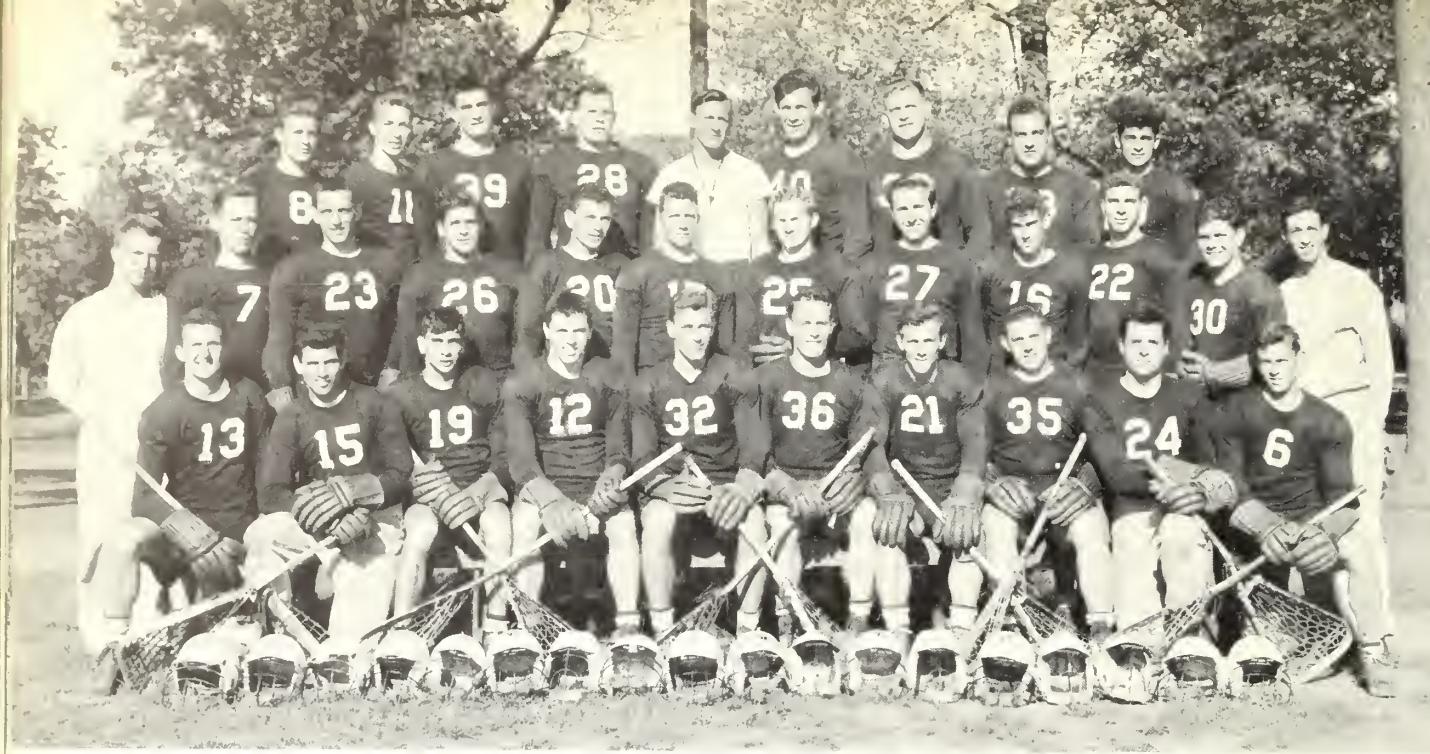

With the entire mile relay team intact and many members of the squad returning next Spring, Coach Judd can look forward to a good season with the knowledge that a respectable showing will be made by his squad.

VARSITY LACROSSE

Comparatively a new sport at Springfield, the Indian game of lacrosse has grown by leaps and bounds through the efforts of Coach Vern Cox and his charges. Today, lacrosse draws crowds as large as baseball and soccer and it is not uncommon to see these crowds in pouring rain watching the stickmen battling it out in the fastest game on two feet. As an indication of its growing status as a varsity sport, the lacrosse team took advantage of the warmer Southern weather last Spring and trekked below the Mason-Dixon Line to engage in pre-season games with southern stickteams.

The Southern trip found the Coxmen winning two of their three games, defeating Western Maryland, 16-2, and Delaware, 8-4. The lone loss came at the hands of Loyola, 13-6.

The varsity stickmen dropped the first two games of their regular season to Dartmouth and Yale. The next game found the stickmen in a hard fought battle which ended in a deadlock, 8-8. Adelphi provided the first sweet taste of victory for the lacrossemen, Dick Garber accounting for 6 of the 10 goals scored. Winning ways continued as the next foe, New Hampshire was thoroughly pasted by the tune of 16-6. The R. P. I. Engineers boasting several Olympic players, however, proved to be too strong for the Maroon squad and posted a 16-5 victory. The final game found the Indians defeating Tufts, 13-6.

The team was led by Co-captains Mert Tefft and Dick Garber, Garber being high scorer with 16 goals followed by Pat Patterson with 15. Willie Hunter's play-making and the fine work of Murray Waldron and Steve Frampton contributed greatly to the team's success.

Next year's squad will be led by Co-captains Roland Chinatti and Pat Patterson. With the help of Lanny Hills, Ralph Decker, Justin Cobb, Graham Vinzant, Lou Martin and Paul Tripp, the Maroon charges of Coach Vern Cox should climb to greater heights.

J. V. No. 1 FOOTBALL

Coach Charles Silvia's Junior Varsity football squad turned in a respectable record of three wins while losing two contests for the 1950 campaign. Well drilled in fundamentals, the Maroons reached their peak by capturing the last two games over formidable opposition.

Led by co-captains Sweeney and Craver, the JV's opened the season with a victory over a classy Nichols Jr. College eleven by the score of 22-14. Bowing to the next two opponents, Mount Hermon and Brandeis, the Silviamen quickly regained form and overwhelmed a strong Harvard Junior Varsity team 24-14. In dropping the curtain for the end of another season, the understudies of the varsity swamped the Wesleyan Juniors to the tune of 26-7.

Although having only one scheduled contest for the season, the College Junior Varsity "B" squad proved their worth many times by engaging daily in scrimmages with the Maroon Varsity. Little recognition is usually given to this squad, but much praise is due for their fine cooperation and excellent spirit. Day in and day out these lovers of the pigskin game were out on the field taking their share of bumps and bruises in order to help the varsity squad reach peak competition and teamwork. Football performances on Pratt Field by varsity players are in many ways a reflection of the many hours of contact work offered by the Junor Varsity "B" team.

We salute you, members of the Junior Varsity "B" football team!

J. V. SOCCER

The Junior Varsity Soccer team finished the season winning one game while dropping three and tying one. The first game against an aggressive Nichols Jr. College squad spelled defeat for the Maroon booters. The next contest found the soccermen tying the University of Massachusetts 1-1 in a game that was bitterly contested from start to finish. The outstanding game of the year proved to be the Wesleyan game which found Springfield on the short end of a 4-3 score. The game, ending in a 3-3 deadlock, went in an overtime period with the Wesmen finally denting the nets with the winning goal. A decisive win, 7-4 over Siena completed the season's competition.

The team was led by co-captains Emrick and La-Rocque. Some of the other outstanding players were Bradley, Chatellier, Davenport, Lander, Hungerford, Coughlin, Bell, Nicholson and Ziegler.

Coach Archie Allen's junior varsity basketball team opened their season with a decisive victory over Portland Junior College combination, 60-26. The JV's annexed another win by trouncing the Hartford Extension, but toppled from the unbeaten ranks by losing to a talented U. S. Naval Training Station five in a double overtime encounter. The hard-wood performers rebounded quickly from their only set-back to date, handing out losses to Brandeis and the Pittsfield "Y".

All members of the squad have contributed greatly to the efforts of the team by their display of clever passing, sharp shooting, strong work off the boards and a fine defense to go along with their offense.

J. V. BASEBALL

Although the successive victory streak over a two year period was halted by the U-Conn Hartford Extension nine, the Junior Varsity baseball team compiled a fine record of six wins and one loss. Under the tutelage of coach Kubachka, all members of the squad contributed highly to make the season a successful one. Well on their way to continuing their victory streak after taking the opener of a twin-bill with the Hartford Extension past-timers, the Maroon Juniors saw their victory skein come to a halt as the Connecticut Juniors edged them out in the night-cap. The timely hitting of Velez, Kusel and Sherman, along with the superb fielding of Mangiarotti, Schoch, LaPine and Bochman were especially instrumental in producing many wins. The catching department was handled capably by Bechtold and O'Neill, with the mound duties being shared by Abner Doubleday and J. Duncan Kershaw.

FROSH FOOTBALL

Coach Archie Allen's Maroon yearlings found themselves on the losing end of five of six games in their schedule. Drilled thoroughly in the basic fundamentals by Coach Allen and his assistant coach, Ed Steitz, the first year gridmen fought hard in every contest but lost to such good teams as Philip Andover, University of Connecticut, and Rhode Island, and won their only contest against Williston Academy. A 7-6 loss to our State Street rivals, A. I. C., proved to be the yearlings' best showing of the season.

It is expected that several of these players will move on up to varsity ranks next year to help varsity coach, Ossie Solem, mold another strong eleven.

Although emerging with a 1-3 record for the season, the yearling squad proved to be one of the best Freshman clubs in recent years. Coach Cox stated at the end of the season that the class of '54 fielded the best all-rounded club that he has coached in four years at Springfield.

The Freshman boters were a well balanced squad. Such players as John Carrier, Jay Gernand, Ray Gilson, Andy Anderson, Craig Barnes and Chick Hungerford showed promise for making the jump into varsity shoes next season. A convincing 4-1 dumping of Brandeis registered the lone victory of the season while the three losses were by one point margins.

FROSH SOCCER

FROSH BASKETBALL

Under the capable guidance of Coach Vern Cox, the yearling hoopmen to date have posted a record of two wins while losing four contests. The Maroon and White frosh combine, displaying fine passing and keen marksmanship, subdued the forces of Clark and A. I. C., and dropped hard fought contests to Rhode Island State, Providence, Holy Cross and the University of Massachusetts.

Since their initial practice the squad improved as the season progressed in all-around cour performances. Eady, Korbut, Pilatowski, Vye and Smith were the leading point getters while Chandler, Whyte and Fisher performed well in the backcourt. Games remaining are with Tufts, Providence, Rhode Island State and A. I. C.

This squad was organized primarily to provide competition for the Varsity by employing the offensive and defensive tactics of Maroon opponents. These players were selected for their special attributes of speed, ball handling and clever all around court play. As the season progressed several games were scheduled for the club to provide added experience. Leading this group in scoring were Schoch and Mathieson while the bulk of rebounding was capably handled by Connors, Swan, Tozier and Goodwin. Hamakawa, Smith, and Bob Folsom showed the way as the key playmakers. The members of this group are potential varsity material and will certainly add much to the success of Springfield teams in the future.

VARSITY "B" BASKETBALL

FROSH CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Dick Miller's Frosh cross country team had a rough time of it in the early part of the season. Faced by a caliber of competition rarely seen in any one season of frosh meets, the frosh never seemed to get started and dropped four straight meets by wide margins. Then in the Connecticut Valleys, superior coaching and high spirit began to show results and in the season's finals, the yearlings stopped the favored U-Conn first year men with a brilliant 26-29 victory. With co-captains Bob Bartlett and George Roney showing the way the squad made great strides in improvement. Other men on the team who figured in the scoring were Lyon, Smith, Corbett, Whyte, Balzer, Thompson and Wheelwright.

The first year men produced one of the best yearling wrestling squads seen here on our campus during the past few years. After tying with a strong Brown squad, the yearlings outpointed the grapplers from Wesleyan, Mt. Hermon and Andover Academy. Once again Coach Hammer found himself with a wealth of wrestling talent to work with. Bienkowski, Cowan, Utter and David Burdge, the team's high scorer, all turned in outstanding performances and should bolster Coach Spark's varsity team next year. During mid-season the yearlings lost the services of Bill Hammer, their coach who left for the Coast Guard. Ernest Bareham assumed the yearling coaching position for the remainder of the season.

FROSH WRESTLING

FROSH SWIMMING

The frosh mermen under the very capable tutelage of Bill Campbell established an enviable record for the season as they racked up seven consecutive wins over scheduled and practice competition before succumbing to the power of the Yale frosh. The yearlings started the season in good stride as they defeated R. P. I., Wesleyan, Mt. Hermon and nearby academies, high schools and YMCA teams before the loss to Yale. Hagberg, Yorzyk, Samuelson, Wilk, Orozco, Streit, Brown, Johnston, Kitaka, Thayer and Schenheiter were the consistent point winners for the tankmen. The defense of the Freshmen 400 yard freestyle relay title at the N.E.I.S.A. championships climaxed a great season.

The frosh gymnasts experienced their first year of exhibition under the capable direction of Coach Irv Schmid and assistant Coach Joe Donahue. Although the exhibition schedule was not an extensive one, the frosh gained invaluable experience in gymnastic and rhythmic work which will greatly aid them in future varsity participation. Exhibitions were given in the city and Wethersfield, Connecticut and Warren, Mass., where the frosh did their part in spreading the fame of Springfield gymnasts. A large part of the credit for the fine work done by the team must be given to the two coaches, Schmid and Donahue. Through their efforts, the team rounded into excellent shape and show exceptional promise for next year's varsity team.

FROSH EXHIBITION TEAM

FROSH BASEBALL

Under the reins of Coach Ed Steitz, the class of '53 baseball team turned in a commendable record of six wins and two losses. Led by the control pitching of Tominaga and the consistent hitting of Kinney and Flood, the freshmen played a brand of ball that led them to great heights. The two defeats were registered by our State St. rivals, A. I. C., but not until hard fought contests had been displayed. Also instrumental in many victories was the outstanding play of Hildreth, Schutts, Pierson, Hoffman and McClements. Judging by their individual performances as Freshmen, many of these players should make the climb into varsity ranks this coming season.

Carrying a squad of sixteen freshmen who had never played lacrosse, Coach Irv Schmid had the big task of helping these men gain experience needed for varsity lacrosse. Although the yearling stickmen had considerable difficulty in learning the ropes of the game, they steadily improved during the first four games, which were all losses. These losses came at the hands of R. P. I., Deerfield, Mount Hermon, and Nichols Junior College. However, the determined yearlings finished in a blaze of glory as they swamped a good Tufts squad, 15-7. Varsity lacrosse coach Vern Cox has high hopes for many of these men as being replacements for those positions vacated by graduation.

FROSH LACROSSE

FROSH TENNIS

Faced with a rugged six meet schedule, the flying frosh under Coach William McCurdy came through with an excellent five and one record. Near the end of the season Rhode Island stopped the freshman twelve meet win streak. High point men were Earl Tate, Jerry Davis, Bob Goodwin, Art Farnham, Pete Fitch and Bill Hillman, collectively accounting for 310 points. One frosh record was shattered when Tate cleared the high jump bar at 6'. Bill Hillman's 10.21.1 in the newly included two mile run will stand as the new record. Other top candidates in line for Coach Judd's 1951 varsity will be Frank McGrath, Dave Ritter, Jim Farrier, Bob Coughlin, Dick Bartis and Bob Folsom.

Coach Chris Blanchard's Maroon yearlings finished their first college tennis competition with a three and three record, with one match being cancelled. Competing against such powers as Worcester Academy, University of Connecticut, Nichols Junior College, R. P. I., Deerfield Academy, and Keene Teachers College, the netmen gained valuable experience, some of which will undoubtedly pay off dividends for the varsity team next year. Bob Sears and Ronnie Lee led the yearling with John Connors, Jim Clark, Harry Grigg, Don Deluse, Don VanVleet, Roger Cordes, Paul Donoghue, Daniel Sawyer, and Dick Russel making up the rest of the squad. This array of promising freshmen reached its zenith in top performance when Worcester Academy was convincingly humbled, 8-0.

FROSH TRACK

INTRA-MURALS

Under the direction of Vern Cox, Director of Intra-murals, and Stu Bicknell, assistant, participation in intra-mural athletics at Springfield College reached an all-time high.

Touch football drew an enthusiastic team from each class and competition was keen from the first games up to the final game which saw the Grads, win the championship. The hard-fighting Frosh, who dropped only one game during the season, wound up in the runner-up slot.

The Grads again saw the glory in the soccer competition. In this sport, they went through the season with only one loss and that to the second place Sophomores. Art Bridgeman, Mel Schmidt and Art Swartz were the big guns for the Grads and their brilliant play brought them the championship.

The annual Cross-Country run was again stepped off in exceptional fashion as William Ersing, representing the Freshmen, ran the two-mile course in 10 minutes and 3 seconds edging out last year's winner, Larry Locke. The final results for team honors ended in a tie between the Freshmen and the Juniors, each with 85 points.

Handball drew over 60 men in the singles and over 90 in the doubles. Because of the lack of adequate facilities, the doubles handball tournament is still in process with Allen-Steitz, Doherty-Chinatti, Woelfle-Douglas, Pollard-Stiner and Mahan-Maier still not eliminated. The singles were won by Mickey Mahan, who defeated George Maier in the finals. Both Mahan and Maier were representing the senior class.

Never before was such an extensive and efficient basketball intra-mural program run off at Springfield. Over 400 students participated in the round-robin tournament to decide the three top teams in each league. The three top teams of each league are now entered in a double elimination tournament to decide the all-college champs.

Wrestling intra-murals will be held on March 5 with each class entering men in the various weights. Last year the Senior class walked away with the tournament winning two-thirds of the weights.

Swimming intra-murals will be held on the 26th of February with the Juniors now defending their title which they won last season as Sophomores.

In compiling and presenting the current year's record of Springfield College the Junior Class was faced with its most difficult challenge to date. However, an early start at organization and abundant enthusiasm gave us the impetus to forge ahead. Electing the staff of the 1951 MASSASOIT was accomplished last May and work was begun immediately. Since that time over a year of intensive work has gone into the publication of a book we hope the entire student body can be justly proud of.

The task of publishing the 1951 MASSASOIT was bigger than ever, because of the increased number of student activities which necessarily expanded the area to be covered by the MASSASOIT Staff. The book presented to this year's student body is the largest book in the history of Springfield College and serves as a tribute to the staff who made its publication possible.

Much more could be said about our achievements this past year, along with their accompanying problems and headaches, but nothing can hold more meaning than the impression the staff has left, through the cooperative manner in which they worked to bolster the "spirit" of Springfield College. So — to every member of the 1951 MASSASOIT Staff — as represented in these pages — we extend our sincere appreciation for doing a great job.

EPilogue

Grandfather, Great Spirit, you have been always, and before you nothing has been. There is no one to pray to but you. The star nations all over the heavens are yours, and yours are the grasses of the earth. You are older than all need, older than all pain and prayer.

Grandfather, Great Spirit, all over the world the faces of living ones are alike. With tenderness have they come up out of the ground. Look upon your children, with children in their arms, that they may face the winds and walk the good road to the day of quiet.

Grandfather, Great Spirit, fill us with the light. Give us the strength to understand and the eyes to see. Teach us to walk the soft earth as relatives to all that live.

Help us, for without you we are nothing.
